Budget raise slight

All but one of the members of the present board of the Antioch Township Library are running for re-election.

The only new candidate is Ann Kakacek who is the only candidate for the seat presently held by Dr. James Kopriva.

Running as a group, unopposed are President Melville Knirsch, Curtiss Delaney, Joe Titus, Ruth Jedeke, Gerry Olsen and Paul Schesky.

After presenting a previous budget of $124,000, the board, at their budget meeting, approved the 1981 budget of $114,000.

The 1979 library budget was $112,000 which makes the new one an increase of only two percent.

Knirsch said, "Since we only spent $108,000 last year we have that excess $4,000 plus other monies unspent in previous, totaling $10,000 in the bank in case we need it."

Knirsch also adds that the Antioch Township Library has the lowest tax multiplier of any library in the area.

He attributes the fact that the library is in good shape financially, one of the few organizations operating under budget, to "efficient management."

Out of the $112,000 budget, $5,400 goes for administration; $82,000 for the library operation; which includes salaries, books and materials; and $22,000 goes into the operation of the building.

Knirsch also says that he thinks that they might be able to save some of the budget monies again this year.

Township slate runs unopposed

The incumbents that sit on the Antioch Township Board, all running on the slate of the People's Independent Party, (PIP) with the final date for candidacy filing having passed, are running unopposed.

Heading the PIP ticket is Township Supervisor Jim Fields, who also sits on the Lake County Board.

Bud Holtz is running for assessor again, a position he holds along with a seat on the Lake County Board.

Blaine Ring wants to be road commissioner for another term, having held that seat for 18 years.

Irv Carey wants to add next term to his 20 years of service on the board.

Rudolph Eckert, 10 year board veteran; Homer LaPlant, eight year veteran and David Heath, on the board for four years, all seem to be a good bet to be returned to their present positions on the township board.

Richard Harlan, is also up for re-election.

Harlan was appointed township clerk two years ago, when Buster Van Patton retired after 20 years.

Band Festival

Over 450 sixth, seventh and eighth grade musicians will be gathering again this year for the Second Annual Antioch Band Festival, 7:30 p.m., Friday, Feb. 13., at the Antioch Community High School.

This may be the one of the largest bands ever formed and is being sponsored by the Antioch Grade School Band Parents.

Eight area schools will be included in this huge concert band presentation.

They will include: Salem Grade School, Salem Wisconsin; Lakewood School, Twin Lakes, Wis.; Randall School, Randall Township, Wis.; Faith Lutheran School, Antioch; Emmons Grade School, Antioch; Grass Lake School, Antioch; Lake Villa School and the Antioch Upper Grade Bands.

Again this year, the director of this large grade school concert band, will be Michael Lecknone, director of bands, University of Wis., Madison.

Chamber seeks mayoral opinions

The Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry sent letters to every member of the Chamber asking them if they favored full-time administration of the village of Antioch, and if so, did they prefer it to be the mayor or a business administrator.

According to Chamber President Mark McKinney, out of the 150 letters sent out, 60 of the recipients sent in answers.

In regards to the full time administration, 24 said yes, 26 said no.

Seventeen said that they wanted that administrator to be the mayor and 34 said they did not.

Did they want that full-time administrator to be a business administrator? Twenty eight said yes and 21 said no.

Since McKinney said that about 60 answers were received, obviously by the figures given some must have given, some must have given other answers besides the simple yes and no's.

Gas station held up

Dennis Baker, 16, attendant at the J & L Gas Station, Rte. 83, south of Rte. 173, Antioch Township, was held up on Wednesday, Jan. 28, by a masked gunman, just after he finished taking pump readings.

Baker described the hold-up man as about 5-6, weight 140 pounds, brown hair, wearing a green jacket and blue jeans.

Baker was forced, by the gun bearing assailant, to turn over his own personal wallet containing $4 and then to lie on the floor of the station while the gunman fled.

Burke claims PO goof harms candidacy

Now that the final filing date of the candidacy papers for village office is past, it's all over but the campaigning, the balloting, and the victory speeches.

The six mayoral candidates are barely into the first week of their campaign, and already one of them is claiming "Foul!"

Mayoral candidate Phillip M. Burke has made a claim, tantamount to sabotage, against employees of the Antioch Post Office.

Burke says that the mailing of 1,700 flyers announcing his fund-raising dinner, slated for Saturday, Jan. 31, at the Country House, was deliberately delayed.

Burke states that he had the flyers weighed and stamped on a scale at a post office at O'Hare.

He took the stamped flyers to the post office in Antioch on Saturday, Jan. 17, where they were re-weighed on two scales, one scale agreeing with the one at O'Hare and the other showing a possible need for more postage.

Burke claims that Jean Irving told him that she thought the postage he had on the flyers would be sufficient.

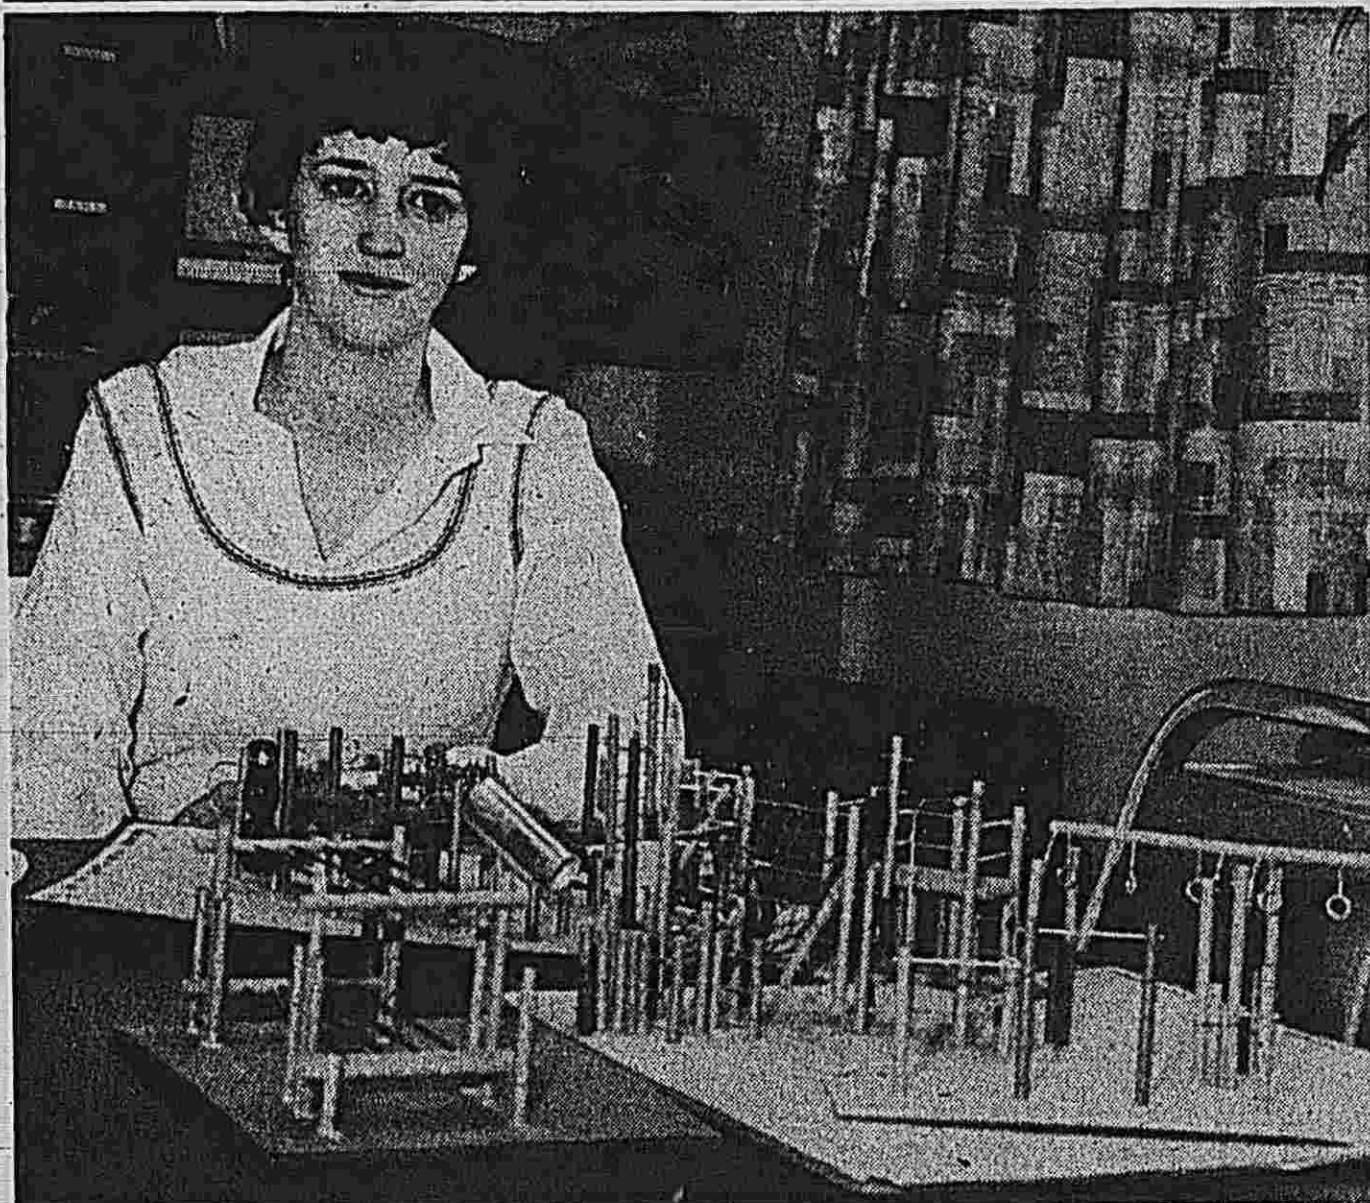

He also says that he was under the impression that the mailing had gone out and that it wasn't until he went to the post office, on Tuesday, Jan. 27, and found a note in his post office box from Phill Kaplan, the postmaster, that he was informed that they hadn't been delivered because there was more postage of 13 cents each due on them.

"All my work was for nothing," Burke says, complaining that the subsequent Wednesday, Jan. 28 delivery didn't give people enough time to plan to attend the dinner.

He also protests with disbelief, the post office's claim that they tried to get a hold of him to inform him of the error.

"Bullshot"

"Bullshot, Crummond" will open at the PM&L Theater on Saturday, Feb. 14. There will be performances on the two following Friday and Saturday nights and a matinee on Sunday, Feb. 22.

Late Mailing

He says that the postal department was capable of finding his residence often in the past, when they mistakenly delivered his mail there, instead of to the P.O. Box where delivery had been requested.

"Someone was home 24 hours a day and my phone number is known all over town, I don't believe that they tried to get in touch with me", he says.

Postmaster Kaplan says that they were merely following strict postal rules, which do not allow postage due mailing of over 10 pieces. The additional man hours and cost being prohibitive.

"We would have had to put 1700 postage due notices on them and the postmen would have had to knock on 1700 doors to collect the 13 cents due on each mailing", he says.

Kaplan also stated that those who deliver the mail have to prepay every due postage and they are personally out the money if it can't be collected.

Kaplan goes on to say that the one scale that okayed the postage was "not zeroed in properly."

He also says that they immediately tried to get in touch with Burke on Monday, Jan. 19, when the error was discovered and the mailing was due to go out, and when his number wasn't listed in the phone book, tried the number that one of the postal employees thought was that of his mother, with whom Burke lives, only to find it disconnected.

Kaplan says he went to Burke's residence on Wednesday, Jan. 21, and got no answer there.

Meanwhile Burke has lodged his complaint with the postal authorities who informed him that they would take the matter under investigation.

To date, Burke has heard nothing from them, and as of Thursday, Jan. 29, blames the late mailing for the fact that he has received no response to his fund-raising dinner invitation.

To top the whole story off, Burke called the newspaper on Friday to tell us that the Country House had called off their verbal agreement on holding the fund-raising dinner there.

'Project Teach' openings

Openings are still available to any teacher in Lake County for enrollment in "Project Teach" for the spring semester.

The class will meet at Lake Forest Community High School, West Campus, from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m., Tuesday, Jan. 25 through April 28.

The course instructor will be Jerry Tangy, classroom teacher and faculty teaching assistant at NIU.

AARP plans Valentine party

The Antioch Chapter number 387 of the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) will be having a Valentine Party at their Feb. 10, meeting. Members purchased their tickets for a boxed chicken dinner. Several members were asked to bring a pie for dessert, preferably cherry. Anyone not making a reservation, must call Dolly Spiering, Esther Aiani or Glen Peterson, or there won't be a dinner for them.

A St. Patrick's Day party is being planned for March 10, with a catered corned beef and cabbage dinner planned. Tickets will be sold for the dinner at the Feb. 10, and Feb. 24, meetings.

Gail Brandt, distributor for Neo-Life Company of America, showed a narrated film strip and told about the products the company sells. She was assisted by Christine Tapor. Members taste-tested dehydrated applesauce, banana chips, vitamins and nutritional food bars.

Blanche Babik announced that 175 members have paid their dues for 1981. There were 130 members at the meeting. Dues of $2 a year are payable in January of every year, regardless of when a person joins. It is necessary to be a member of the National Association to belong to the local chapter.

All meetings are held at the new Antioch Area Senior Center, 817 Holbek Dr., Antioch. Doors open at 9 a.m. Lunches are not served by the Catholic Charities on the days that AARP has their meetings. Those days are the second and fourth Tuesdays of every month.

A bus load of AARP members visited Christmas Tree House in Metawa last week. They were very impressed by the beauty of the 200 trees, 85,000 lights and thousands of ornaments, many hand-made by visitors to the house. The decorations are worth at least a half-million dollars.

Edward and Bonnie Gulan are the owners of the famous tree house. Two of their daughters, a son and the Gulans, graciously showed the people through the Miracle Stable, the Story

Lady's Cottage, grandmother's Country Porch and the Peppermint Kitchen and other rooms, pointing out special trees and telling a little story about them. Trees decorated with just candy, cats, Santa Clauses, flowers and bows, gold tinsel, antique ornaments, pearl necklaces, popcorn strings and popcorn ice cream cones and houses, apples with smiling worms popping out, tiny gift boxes, white birds of peace, rosary beads, Easter lilies, small records and books about the tree house, candy canes, plastic fruits and vegetables, aluminum trees, pictures of school children, were just a few of the many ideas used.

The family has had many "miracles". In one of the books that they have published they tell of "Kathy's Healing of Mouth Cancer". "How their son, John, was saved out of the pits of drugs", the "healing of Chrissey's eyesight", the miracle of the "disappearance of Bonnie's varicose veins", the miracle of "the vanishing of Ed's kidney-stones", the miracle of the "healing of their two cats", the miracle of Mike's escape from a death of fire", and the miracle "of their Christmas Tree Story House".

They also tell of many more family miracles. Proceeds from the sale of the books and records are used for the maintenance of the house and the annual free Christmas Walk. (It is a non-profit tax exempt organization.)

Besides the many trees, the rooms have religious statues, antique furniture, figurines, dishes and decorations that were used at Marshall Field's Hawthorn Shopping Center and the Hawthorn Shopping Center at Christmas time. Field's also donated candy canes so that everyone going through the house would have one to take home. A beautiful creche with a large movable Santa Claus and a small infant Jesus in a crib with a small Santa Claus were just two of the beautiful Christmas scenes. The many people who have toured the house add to it every year.

March of Dimes helped by real estate

Red Carpet's Dee Young & Associates, real estate, announced it is implementing its "Help Us Help" fund raising effort to fight birth defects in conjunction with the March of Dimes (Mothers March of Walk America) program.

Red Carpet is canvassing the communities it serves to seek out more volunteers and to generate additional funds to support March of Dimes birth defects research and medical and health education services.

The March of Dimes helped defeat polio at a time when nearly everyone thought victims were destined to live out their lives in iron lungs. Together we won the fight against polio. Now let's combine our efforts to defeat the tragedy of birth defects.

To volunteer your help in this worthwhile project, call Dee Young & Associates at 395-6333 or stop in at the office at 389 Lake St. Antioch.

Gives rescue squads credit

by CAROLE RISK

One day, in town, as the rescue siren went off, I happened to be in a place to observe how quickly the rescue squad assembles and gets underway.

Time being a crucial factor in so many emergencies, their efficiency is the difference between life and death.

Watching the mobile intensive care unit (which is the proper name) I thought that it would interest others as it had me, to find out more about the rescue squad.

Rescue squad chief David Heath kindly took the time to explain how everything is put together.

The Antioch Rescue Squad consists of 25 men who are on 24 hour call, when you hear the rescue siren sounding off, all the men who are available respond immediately.

And to this point there has never been a time when not enough men have shown up. The truck is now staffed, and the emergency room on wheels is ready to go.

The rescue squad is fitted with the latest emergency medical equipment and drugs and also with radios linking the squad with doctors and the emergency facility that they are going to.

They also have the equipment to administer electrocardiograms that the doctor and emergency room can monitor while they are on the way.

The men who volunteer for Antioch's Rescue Squad attend an 80 hour program to become emergency medical technicians and may go on to a 400 hour program to become paramedics.

It is required that each emergency have two paramedics in attendance. Antioch is fortunate in that as a rule four or five paramedics will respond to a call. Everybody in the medical services that has worked with the Antioch Rescue Squad has only the best to say about them and the high quality of Antioch's mobile emergency care.

The rescue squad will take a victim to any hospital requested, within reason, (not Chicago or Milwaukee for example).

If there is not a request, the victim will go to Victory Memorial in Waukegan as that is the home base for the mobile intensive care system that our rescue squad is part of.

Dr. J.T. Freeland is the director of this program which also includes Lake Villa and Round Lake.

Victory Memorial Hospital is staffed by MESA, a physicians association that specializes in emergency treatment.

A question that is asked around the Antioch area regarding emergency care is why the new St. Therese Satellite does not seem to be used much by rescue squads in the area.

Denise Tucker of St. Therese Hospital gave the information that the satellite is being used now, and that this facility is the first emergency care center of its type in the state of Illinois to be recognized by the Dept. of Public Health, and that it has been accepted into the system of mobile intensive care that is under the directorship of Dr. T.J. Freeland.

Ms. Tucker explained that there is two types of life support systems, advanced and basic and that advanced life support requires a full service hospital and basic does not always.

The satellite is equipped for basic life support.

There is an emergency physician from northern Illinois emergency physicians on 24 hour call with nurses who have taken special emergency training.

There have been several people from Antioch that have been involved in emergencies in the Fox Lake Area.

After speaking with McHenry Hospital which is where the Fox Lake Rescue Squad takes their victims.

The information from McHenry Hospital is that the Fox Lake Rescue Squad is part of a different mobile intensive system which is under the supervision of another physician, and that their mobile system has not cleared for the use of free standing emergency care facilities.

I would like to mention that Denise Tucker of St. Therese Hospital stated that she would be happy to speak to any group that is interested in the services available at the satellite, and to arrange a tour through the building.

Ms. Tucker can be reached at 587-2740 or 587-2753. Note teachers, den mothers or anyone working with children, you are especially welcome, and cookies and milk can be served, as a treat.

Ms. Tucker explained that it is better for young people to become acquainted in this manner with emergency care, should they need it in the future.

Regarding last week's column mentioning activities at the senior citizen center, due to a typographical error it was stated that the Telecare - Meals on Wheels program was located at the center, this is not so, there is hope that in the future that this program will be able to relocate in the center, but as for now, Telecare and Meals on Wheels programs are still at the United Methodist Church of Antioch, 848 Main Street.

Also, to clear up any misunderstanding, there is not a obligatory $2 donation to the senior citizen program for any party, lunch or activity. It is whatever can be afforded, 5 cents, 10 cents, 25 cents or nothing at all, all donations are anonymous. For any information call Carol Easley at 395-7120.

Red Carpet's Dee Young & Associates, real estate, announced it is implementing its "Help Us Help" fund raising effort to fight birth defects in conjunction with the March of Dimes (Mothers March of Walk America) program.

Red Carpet is canvassing the communities it serves to seek out more volunteers and to generate additional funds to support March of Dimes birth defects research and medical and health education services.

The March of Dimes helped defeat polio at a time when nearly everyone thought victims were destined to live out their lives in iron lungs. Together we won the fight against polio. Now let's combine our efforts to defeat the tragedy of birth defects.

To volunteer your help in this worthwhile project, call Dee Young & Associates at 395-6333 or stop in at the office at 389 Lake St. Antioch.

Gives rescue squads credit

by CAROLE RISK

One day, in town, as the rescue siren went off, I happened to be in a place to observe how quickly the rescue squad assembles and gets underway.

Time being a crucial factor in so many emergencies, their efficiency is the difference between life and death.

Watching the mobile intensive care unit (which is the proper name) I thought that it would interest others as it had me, to find out more about the rescue squad.

Rescue squad chief David Heath kindly took the time to explain how everything is put together.

The Antioch Rescue Squad consists of 25 men who are on 24 hour call, when you hear the rescue siren sounding off, all the men who are available respond immediately.

And to this point there has never been a time when not enough men have shown up. The truck is now staffed, and the emergency room on wheels is ready to go.

The rescue squad is fitted with the latest emergency medical equipment and drugs and also with radios linking the squad with doctors and the emergency facility that they are going to.

They also have the equipment to administer electrocardiograms that the doctor and emergency room can monitor while they are on the way.

The men who volunteer for Antioch's Rescue Squad attend an 80 hour program to become emergency medical technicians and may go on to a 400 hour program to become paramedics.

It is required that each emergency have two paramedics in attendance. Antioch is fortunate in that as a rule four or five paramedics will respond to a call. Everybody in the medical services that has worked with the Antioch Rescue Squad has only the best to say about them and the high quality of Antioch's mobile emergency care.

The rescue squad will take a victim to any hospital requested, within reason, (not Chicago or Milwaukee for example).

If there is not a request, the victim will go to Victory Memorial in Waukegan as that is the home base for the mobile intensive care system that our rescue squad is part of.

Dr. J.T. Freeland is the director of this program which also includes Lake Villa and Round Lake.

Victory Memorial Hospital is staffed by MESA, a physicians association that specializes in emergency treatment.

A question that is asked around the Antioch area regarding emergency care is why the new St. Therese Satellite does not seem to be used much by rescue squads in the area.

Denise Tucker of St. Therese Hospital gave the information that the satellite is being used now, and that this facility is the first emergency care center of its type in the state of Illinois to be recognized by the Dept. of Public Health, and that it has been accepted into the system of mobile intensive care that is under the directorship of Dr. T.J. Freeland.

Ms. Tucker explained that there is two types of life support systems, advanced and basic and that advanced life support requires a full service hospital and basic does not always.

The satellite is equipped for basic life support.

There is an emergency physician from northern Illinois emergency physicians on 24 hour call with nurses who have taken special emergency training.

There have been several people from Antioch that have been involved in emergencies in the Fox Lake Area.

After speaking with McHenry Hospital which is where the Fox Lake Rescue Squad takes their victims.

The information from McHenry Hospital is that the Fox Lake Rescue Squad is part of a different mobile intensive system which is under the supervision of another physician, and that their mobile system has not cleared for the use of free standing emergency care facilities.

I would like to mention that Denise Tucker of St. Therese Hospital stated that she would be happy to speak to any group that is interested in the services available at the satellite, and to arrange a tour through the building.

Ms. Tucker can be reached at 587-2740 or 587-2753. Note teachers, den mothers or anyone working with children, you are especially welcome, and cookies and milk can be served, as a treat.

Ms. Tucker explained that it is better for young people to become acquainted in this manner with emergency care, should they need it in the future.

Regarding last week's column mentioning activities at the senior citizen center, due to a typographical error it was stated that the Telecare — Meals on Wheels program was located at the center, this is not so, there is hope that in the future that this program will be able to relocate in the center, but as for now, Telecare and Meals on Wheels programs are still at the United Methodist Church of Antioch, 848 Main Street.

Also, to clear up any misunderstanding, there is not a obligatory $2 donation to the senior citizen program for any party, lunch or activity. It is whatever can be afforded, 5 cents, 10 cents, 25 cents or nothing at all, all donations are anonymous. For any information call Carol Easley at 395-7120.

Ski patrol gives skiers safe feeling

In recent years, to keep pace with the rapid growth of skiing, the National Ski Patrol has been training new members. As a result, training methods have become more rigorous in an effort to provide the skiing public and ski management with better skilled and more qualified ski patrol people.

This formal and extensive program at Wilmot Mountain Ski area in Wilmot, Wisconsin is headed by Senior Patroler-Lloyd (Skip) Atwell of Lake Bluff. He feels that many people do not realize the strenuous training candidates must take before being accepted on the National Ski Patrol.

FIRST phase of the training is to obtain an Advanced First Aid Card from the American Red Cross.

Second phase is to take four hours of training, once a week for 12 weeks at Wilmot Mountain.

CANDIDATES will study Ski Patrol First Aid, toboggan handling, on hill rescue and ski proficiency.

A candidate must be able to ski the most advanced slope in a strong competent manner as well as be able to handle all terrain under all snow and weather conditions.

THIRD phase consists of passing a written and practical Ski Patrol First Aid test followed by an on the hill test for toboggan handling, on hill rescue and ski proficiency.

To complete this rigorous hill test, the candidate proves his endurance by climbing a 200 foot hill three times, with or without skis.

The purpose of the National Ski Patrol System is to serve the skiing public without charge in the skillful rescue and First Aid treatment of injured skiers in a confident and courteous manner.

Its purpose also is to promote safety and accident prevention in the sport of skiing and coordinates its efforts with management of the ski areas.

The ski patrol is first on the slopes each day, checking snow conditions, equipment and potential danger spots and is the last one on the hills at night making sure no skier is lying unnoticed and hurt.

They are out in all kinds of weather, including the recent 10 below zero temperature (38 below with the wind chill factor), — and work a minimum of 80 hours a season, at Wilmot Mountain.

This is strictly a voluntary and non-profit organization.

More than 23,000 ski patrolers in the nation, from all walks of life, have contributed significant portions of their lives and energies to the sport of skiing so that it may be safer and more enjoyable for you, the skiing public.

Jack Falasz, national ski patrol director for Wilmot Mountain commends the dedicated patrolers that serve as volunteers and cover the slopes at Wilmot Mountain.

He knows that as a member of the National Ski Patrol, you will put in a very full and rewarding ski day.

There is a warm inner feeling that comes from the knowledge that, while participating in a glorious, invigorating sport, you have provided a humanitarian service for your fellow skiers.

So the next time an injured skier hears these words, "May I Help You?" from a patroler in a distinctive Rusty Parka with the Gold Cross on their back, remember that "Wilmot Mountain cares enough to send the very best." ... The National Ski Patrol.

ASL lowers restrictions

Antioch Savings and Loan has announced that they have lowered the restrictions on their N.O.W. Checking Accounts. Effective immediately, Antioch Savings has reduced the average daily balance required to avoid all charges from $2,000 to $1,000.

Further, if the balance falls below $1,000 a monthly service charge of .1 and 12 cents for each check written.

There is No Minimum Balance required to earn interest which of course helps offset any charges.

Mark McKinney, executive vice president explained that by reducing the minimum average daily balance to avoid all charges from $2,000 to $1,000 allows customers to "free up some of their money" which can be invested in a high yielding Certificate of Deposit.

"Even if a customer's balance falls below $1,000 a monthly service charge of $1.00 and 12 cents per check written is most reasonable and is much less expensive than a flat service charge of $5 and $6, unless a customer writes more than 33 checks a month."

"We have enjoyed great success in attracting new customers and we hope that by reducing the restrictions will allow us to better serve our customers."

AMHA sets cotillion

Members of the Antioch Mental Health Association met at Cedar Village in Lake Villa Jan. 19. Arrangements for the meeting were made by Marge Warner, secretary.

Annette Lubkeman, president conducted the meeting. She announced that the Annual Cotillion would be held May 30, at the Abbey on Lake Geneva. Thelma Anderson announced that the Manhattan Skyline is the band selected for the evening. The committee will remain the same as last year.

Louise Vos told the group about the dedication that she and Mr. Vos had attended of the Lambs new dining room. Betty Ford also attended this dedication.

Ruth Jedeke, treasurer, reported that $31,000 has been donated during 1980 to various organizations which help the handicapped and that a total of $150,000 has been given to the Grove School in Lake Forest and the Lambs Farm in Libertyville since the Antioch Mental Health Association was first begun.

Members were introduced to Don Samuelson who talked about Cedar Village. Cedar Village is a six-story atrium building on a wooded site overlooking Cedar Lake.

Samuelson said the concept is to combine community activities with housing for the elderly, keeping the elderly busy and useful. Members were given a tour of the building including two of the apartments.

When I Think About It Youth is great, age is greatest

by GLORIA DAVIS

The other day, a female contemporary of mine received a dozen roses, anonymously sent, and I was astounded at hearing a very young friend express her wonderment as to "why anyone would send someone over 35 such a romantic gift."

Ah, youth, it's so wonderfully full of exuberance, freshness, beauty and stupidity.

Young lady, don't you know that you're only the graceful simple rosebud, just a vague foreshadowing of the truly beautiful, multishaded, many petaled, full-bloomed flower, that is to come. The rose at its best.

Isn't it a fact that many many things are more valuable the longer they're around?

The older the Cheddar, the better the cheese and what is more desired by the connoisseur than aged vintage wine.

Why is it that antique furniture reaps the highest bids at the auction and the most valuable paintings are those done by "the old masters?"

What's that saying about new friends being silver and old friends being gold? Even on today's erotic market, an ounce of gold far outsells the same amount of silver.

And aren't young men gorgeous and strong but usually so unsure. For true masculinity, give me the man who has accomplished, who knows who he is and therefore is the master of most situations.

I've found that several of a human being's most important qualities are the benefit of time: things like patience, thoughtfulness, tenderness and the art of giving.

Please don't misunderstand, age itself doesn't stand on its own merit and youth itself doesn't negate consideration.

To be beautiful and valuable, aging must include growth, nurturing of quality, gaining a sense of having accomplished and most important, retaining a constant expectancy of a new experience to come.

Youth, on the other hand, has a lot to offer the older generation in their fresh ideas, their never ending energy and the simple fact that they're just great to look at.

This is really leading to the fact that neither generation should dismiss the other no matter what the situation, both should learn from each other and be smart enough to take the pearls that each has to offer.

Let young people consider us mellow, not over-ripe and likewise, those of us that have been around for a few years, should consider the young not as "wet behind the ears" but as fresh as the morning dew.

Along the way

with ANNIE MAE

I forgot to comment last week on what the usually, so well dressed, Antioch gals wore to the big Chamber of Commerce's bash.

Kay Costoff's simple white, belted in gold, was a knockout, beautifully contrasting with Sharon Simon's tailored black silk.

Loved Bev Reckers brick colored quinana and Letta Wilton's off white suit, with rust accents was also among the fashion leaders.

Speaking of the Chamber's dinner dance, a few of our well known males took the title of the event seriously, as they danced the socks off of their partners.

Arthur Murray had nothing on Gus Costoff and Homer LaPlante but the "golden slipper" award of the evening has to go to Bill Patterson, if only for pure stamina.

Love the story of one of the last of a vanishing breed, Lake County's own Possum Slim.

The way it was related to me, Slim, a well known "ladies' man," was tried for shooting a lady when he was 88 years old.

Slim claimed to have paid for the lady's favores and when she refused to come across, he shot her.

The judge decided that sentencing an 88 year old man to life imprisonment, the maximum penalty at that time, was not a heavy enough punishment, since Slim's age could make it a short prison sentence.

Knowing how Slim loved his homestead in Lake County, the judge decided that banishment from Lake County would be the harshest punishment he could impose on Slim, so Slim was not allowed to enter Lake County, except for an hour on Sunday for church services, until the day he died.

Slim died last month, at the age of 113, outliving the judge who sentenced him.

A friend who saw Slim a few weeks before he passed away, asked him about his love life and Slim replied that it was getting harder and harder to find young women to pay attention to him, but he added that he would keep looking until he couldn't see them anymore.

The job of president of the Antioch Township Library Board seems to be a fitting one for Mel Knirsch, who has spent the last 37 years reading his way straight through it.

Between Mel and his wife they go through at least 15 books a week.

If you have any doubts that there is wasteful government spending being paid for by your taxes, it might be interesting to look into some of the committees that are government funded.

Pete Cleven was telling me the other day about a couple still being fully-funded and salary staffed.

One was created in 1933 to investigate the Nazi problem, and since it's still operating, obviously still hasn't decided what the problem is.

The other came into being in 1948, a commission to decide on a fitting monument to Franklin Roosevelt.

To this day, 22 years later, the committee still hasn't come up with one, and money for its operation is still coming out of your taxes.

For those of you that think the present salary of Antioch's mayor, that of $2,000, is one of the smallest you've heard of for a top ranking municipal official, I hear that the mayor of Dallas, Texas, gets much less.

Sequoits win 62-56 take conference lead

The Antioch Sequoit varsity team took the conference lead, on Friday, Jan. 30, when they beat the Stevenson Patriots by six points, to win 66-52.

"We've beaten everyone," says Coach Roger Andrews, "So now we're in the drivers seat and hopefully we can stay there."

Andrews credits his win with "a great effort by the whole team, everybody that was called on came through with flying colors," says the jubilant coach.

But in the same breath he cautions against overconfidence and letdown, when the Sequoits face Grayslake this Tuesday, Feb. 3.

"Anybody is dangerous," he says. John Ploss and Dee Maras lead the scoring with 18 points apiece and Tim Koesser put 12 on the board to help the Antioch win.

According to Andrews, Dean Havilland also was a Sequoit asset, when he came off the bench to help both the defense and offense.

But the game wasn't in Antioch's pocket, with Stevenson holding the lead through the entire first two quarters, ahead by 29-26 at halftime.

Then Antioch rallied in the second half of the game and midway through the third quarter, tied the score 40-40.

Andrews blames the poor showing in the first half to too many turnovers.

The Sequoits forced Stevenson to take outside shots and when the scoreboard read Antioch 56, Stevenson 40; the game was all Sequit from then on.

Antioch faces Grayslake, Tuesday, Feb. 3, on the Sequit home court and Round Lake, at Round Lake, on Friday, Feb. 6.

PM&L Production

'Bullshot Crummond' opens

"Bullshot Crummond," the offbeat British detective comedy, will open Saturday night, Feb. 14, at the PM&L Theatre, 877 Main Street in Antioch.

Following that opening performance, succeeding presentations are scheduled for Friday and Saturday nights, Feb. 20, 21, 27, and 28.

A matinee show will also take place on Sunday afternoon, Feb. 22.

Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. for the evening performances and 2:30 p.m. for the Sunday matinee.

THE AFTERNOON show, an innovation of PM&L's current Season 20, is becoming a popular new feature of the theater schedule.

This is especially appreciated by the many playgoers who have not found it possible or convenient to attend performances on Friday and Saturday nights.

A SPOOF of the old-time low-budget grade "B" detective movie, "Bullshot Crummond" is certain to delight its audiences.

Moreover, there is nothing low-budget about the lavish PM&L production of this British farce. Where else can you see, live on stage, not only a spectacular automobile mishap but also a disastrous airplane crash?

Those who remember Bulldog Drummond, the indestructible British sleuth of another time, will recognize the infallible model parodied by "Bullshot Crummond."

VETERAN Ken Smouse directs the PM&L production. His cast features such outstanding performers as Bruce Stamm of Round Lake Beach as Bullshot Crummond himself; Don Beveroth, Paddock Lake, as the villainous Otto Von Brunno; Kris Ann Miller, Antioch, as Rosemary Fenton; Gloria Stewart, McHenry, as Lenya Von Brunno; and Keith Boehm, Antioch, as practically everybody else in this hilarious play.

This delightful comedy, performed by such a seasoned and able cast, will, no doubt, play to packed houses. You should therefore hasten to make your reservations to see the show, if you have not already done so.

The telephone number to call for reservations is 395-3055. Service at this PM&L number has recently been strengthened and put on a professional basis, permitting your seating requests to be acted upon promptly.

Even so, you should make it a special point to be at the PM&L box office by 8:15 p.m. on the night, or 2:15 p.m. on the afternoon, that you plan to see this rollicking detective comedy.

TREE TAPPING — Learn about the early American tradition of Maple Syrup Making through firsthand experience. The Lake County Forest Preserve District is looking for volunteers to help with the Maple Syrup Programs on weekends in February and March. You will learn the entire process from tapping the trees, collecting the sap, boiling it down and finishing off the syrup, plus history and folklore.

Antioch neighbor celebrates winter

Lake Villa has decided to embrace the winter season and the recreational activities that are associated with snow and ice by having its first annual Lake Villa Winter Carnival Feb. 15, at Lehman and Sherman Parks in Lake Villa.

The one day event will have four events, food stands and prizes for the winners in each of the events. Activities planned for the carnival are snowmobile drag races with two categories, cross country ski race, a broom stick hockey tournament and a human dog sled race. There might also be some ice skating and snow sculpturing if the weather permits.

The carnival idea was the brain child of Richard Carani, Lake Villa, who sold the idea to the Lake Villa Chamber of Commerce and Industry. Since the chamber decided to promote the event two months ago, there has been enormous support from nearly all of the civic and club organizations in the village, says Carani, chairman of the committee.

The snowmobile drag races will start at 2 p.m. Feb. 15, at Lehman Park in Lake Villa and will be divided into a 500 cc and under and 340 cc and under categories. The entrants must be sponsored by a business and only stock machines will be allowed to enter. Prior registration is required and entry fees are $5.

"We don't want a lot of hot rodders or professional people in the race," said Carani. "We want the events to be for the general population."

The snowmobile races will be straight away race with two machines running against each other and winners will be decided on time. The first three places in each category will receive a trophy.

Broom stick hockey is scheduled to start at 10 a.m. and will require a $5 fee and must be sponsored by a business. The tournament will be single elimination with the first four teams receiving trophies.

The cross country ski race scheduled to start at noon will be approximately 45 minutes long and will not require a fee to enter. Registration will be 30 minutes before race time. The first three places will receive trophies.

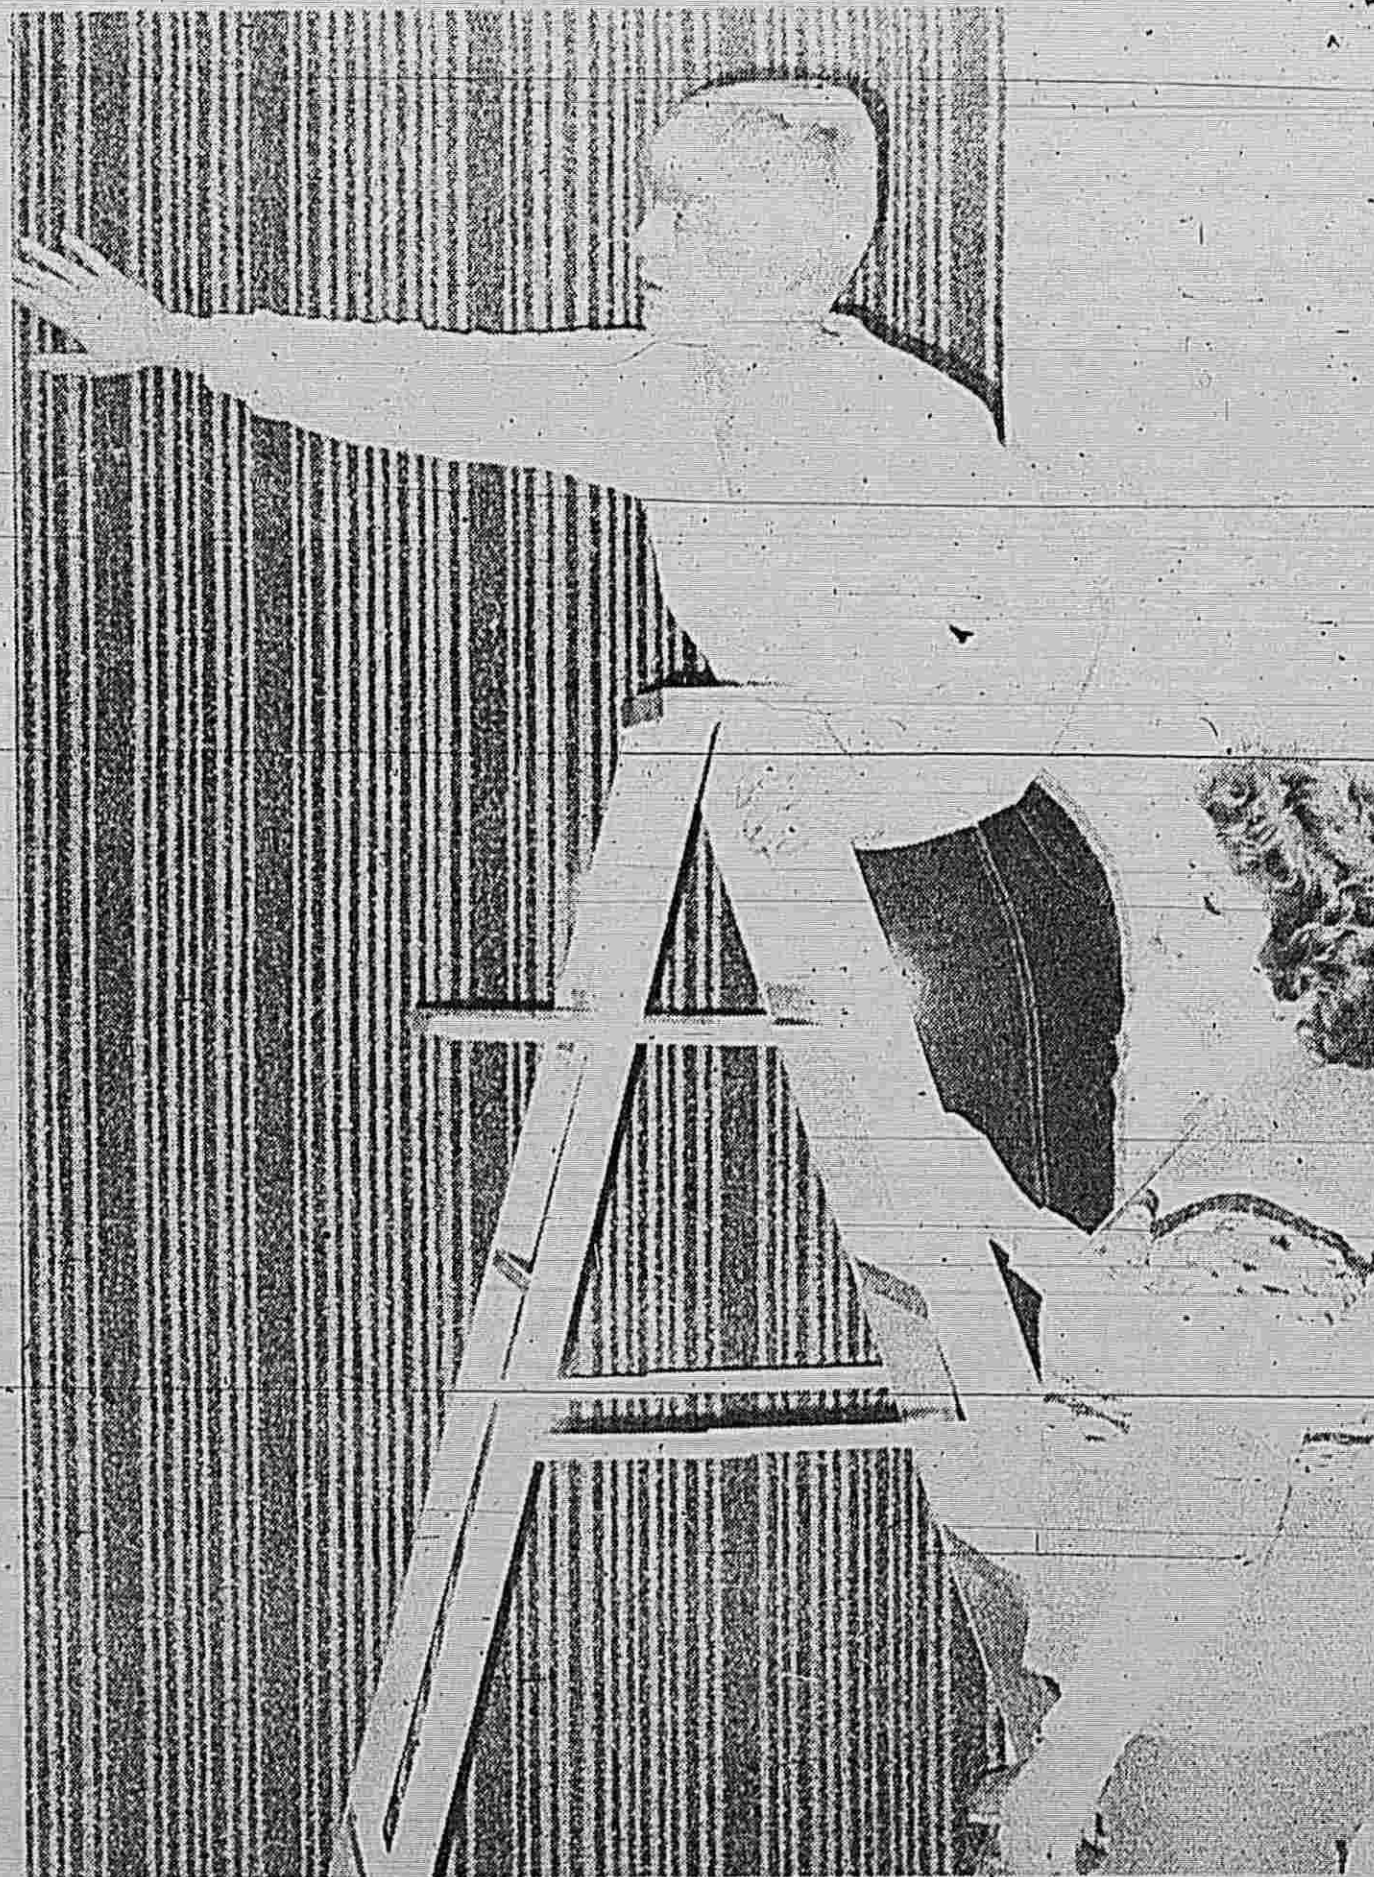

The human dog sled team races will start at 1 p.m. with two age group categories. The race will have kids on sleds that will be provided and an adult will pull them. The categories will be determined by the age of the child being pulled.

In the human dog sled race the adults will pull the sleds a short distance while on all fours. There will be no fee and the first three places in each category will receive trophies.

There has been tremendous support for the winter carnival, said Carani. Businesses have donated and there has been strong support from the various organizations.

Carani said he hopes the winter carnival has a good turn out so that it will be held on an annual basis. How big the event might become is hard to say, Carani says.

"Maybe in the future the carnival will be a two-day or maybe a week long event," said Carani. "Right now we just hope to have four events that are run well than have a lot of events with a lot of mix-ups."

The Time Machine

50 YEARS AGO: FEBRUARY 5, 1931

The heroism of Lyle Eldredge, Ida Street, Antioch, in saving two skaters from drowning, was recognized here by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission which awarded a bronze medal to Eldredge. On Dec. 3, Eldredge was ice skating with James and Mrs. Duffy when suddenly they skated into open water 20 feet deep. Eldredge towed Mrs. Duffy to the edge of the ice which broke for 10 feet before they were able to gain support. Then Eldredge turned and swam 15 feet to Duffy and raised him to the surface. After a struggle Eldredge pulled Duffy to the ice, scrambled out and pulled the other two to safety. The three made their way three-quarters of a mile to a farmhouse with the temperature 14 below zero. All three are recovered.

Relief work for the needy of Antioch and community is now in the hands of the Community Chest committee, headed by Mrs. H.W. Osmond as chairman.

Hunter will have charge of the repair work and storage, while Mr. Maplethorpe retains the sale of accessories, Nash sales, greasing and car washing and the Standard Service Station.

The First National Bank of Gorham was robbed of $5,600 Friday morning by two men armed with shotguns. Within three days the bandits were captured and identified as Jackson County hoodlums who have been engaged in several holdups there. The cashier of Gorham Bank is Ernest Schwartz, brother of Mrs. S. Boyer Nelson of this city.

Herman Edlmann, 15-year-old boy enrolled as a sophomore of Antioch High School, was recently awarded the third prize in the Illinois Home Bureau poster contest. Herman received a check for $7 from the Illinois Home Bureau and a cash certificate from the Illinois Pump Co.

30 YEARS AGO: FEBRUARY 1, 1951

Cold weather and inability of heating the Oakland School building too good caused a sudden move of the second grade there into the new addition of the Antioch Grade School before its completion yesterday.

Plans are being made by Anton Stanich to open his drug store anew on Feb. 10 in the building at 895 Main St., formerly occupied by the Lakes Region Construction Co. Now operating a prescription counter at the rear of Bud's Tavern, Stanich is spending much of his time getting his new store outfitted. It will still go under the name of King's which it bore when destroyed by fire.

When a protest went up from the Central Baptist Children's home at Lake Villa over the shooting of their pet collie dog by some unidentified person, the home was swamped with offers of pets. The children voted to accept an offer from Thomas Payton for a new collie pup.

A candy cane weighing 30 pounds was presented to the Great Lakes Hospital by Ted Poulos proprietor of Ted's Sweet Shop on Lake St., its maker, on Wednesday, Jan. 10. Poulos also gave the patients 30 pounds of homemade fudge.

GOP hears Foreman

The Antioch Republican Club held its first meeting of the new year, Wednesday, Jan. 21 at the Antioch Township Hall.

In contrast with many of the recent meetings, the turnout increased.

Fred Foreman, Lake County States Attorney was a guest speaker at Wednesday night's meeting.

Foreman talked about his job and the progress he has made as states attorney.

He then followed up by answering everyone's questions.

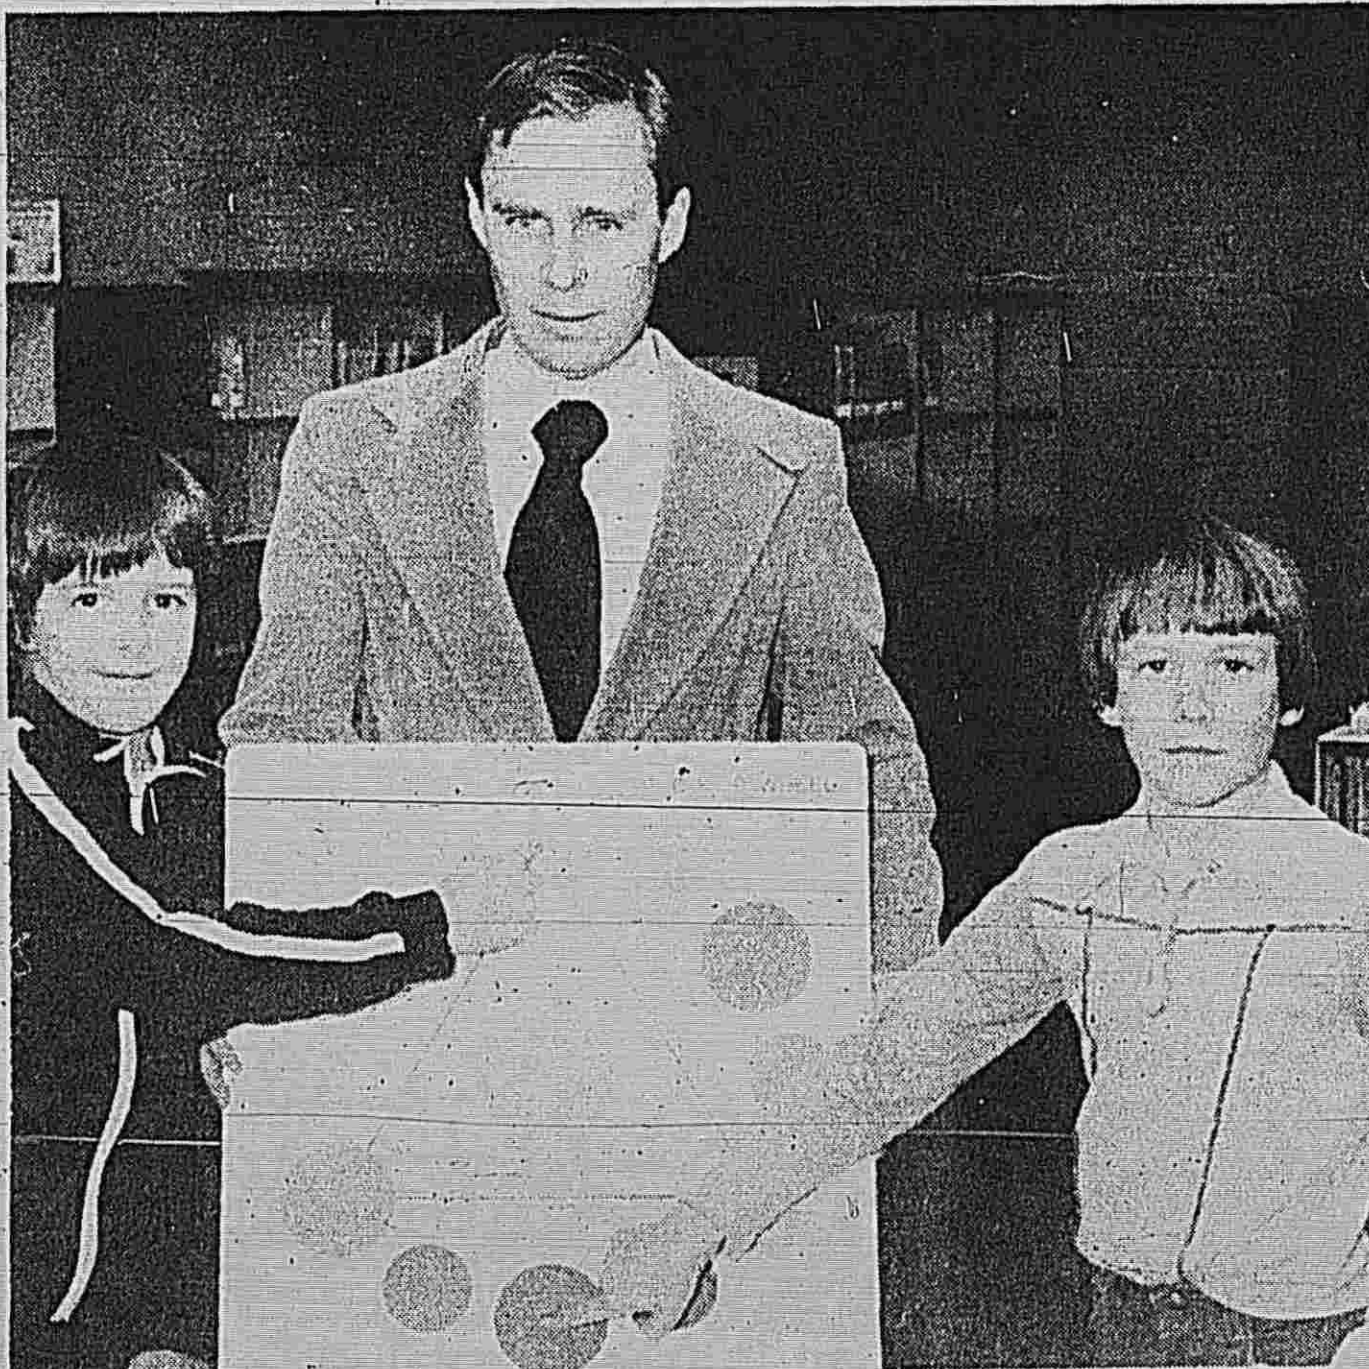

It was interesting to hearing his position, and we thank Mr. Foreman for attending.

The Republican Club will continue to have a guest speaker at each of the monthly meetings to help give us a better awareness of the community we live in.

The Antioch Republican Club holds its meetings every third Wednesday of the month at the Antioch Township Hall, Rte. 173 east of Rte. 83 at 8 p.m.

Anyone wishing to attend next month's meeting is welcome to do so.
